

CATALOG 2023-2024

WELCOME!

Being rooted and grounded in the truth of God's word and being equipped to make a difference in this world for Christ are essential, and arguably more urgent now than ever before. Thankfully, we are seeing God increasingly utilize Compass Bible Institute to strengthen and prepare more and more people to think biblically and serve Christ's church more effectively.

I know that any investment in training and education requires a serious commitment of your time, energy, and resources, but I am confident that God can use your resolve to be equipped at Compass Bible Institute to bear fruit for the remainder of your life. Formal Christian education and ministry training, when joined with a sincere desire to be useful to the Lord, can ignite monumental changes in families, churches, and culture.

I pray that as you read through the course offerings and ministry training opportunities in this catalog that you will get excited and be motivated to take the next steps—as you prayerfully consider the way this kind of Christian education can provide just what is needed to develop your spiritual gifts and prepare you for a lifetime of useful service to our King.

I can attest that God is doing great things at Compass Bible Institute, and it is my hope that your participation in this uniquely focused educational and ministerial training will be one of the best decisions you have made in your Christian development.

I look forward to seeing you here!

Mike Fabarez, D.Min.

President, Compass Bible Institute
Senior Pastor, Compass Bible Church, Aliso Viejo

About Compass Bible Institute

Mission

Compass Bible Institute exists to meet the training needs of those who will plant churches, those who aspire to full-time employment in Christian ministry, and those who desire to serve in key leadership roles as highly committed participants in their churches. CBI seeks to accomplish this by providing low-cost, high-quality Bible education for the general public of Orange County and beyond. As a church-based institution, CBI remains vitally connected to the ministry of Compass Bible Church and is led by experienced pastors and professionals who are actively engaged in the work of ministry.

Heritage

CBI was founded from a resolve to extend the impact of Compass Bible Church—by reaching more people for Christ, teaching more people to be like Christ, and training more people to serve Christ. As part of the three-pronged challenge of CBC's 20/20 Vision, which included a commitment to increase the church's efforts in church planting and to redesign the church's Aliso Viejo campus, the CBC leadership team also made plans to found an accessible, affordable, and biblically faithful educational institution to effectively train men and women to perform the kinds of ministries required to reach people with the gospel and to teach them to obey it.

CBI first began to become a reality through the purchase of the "145 Building." After many months devoted to facility renovation and curriculum design, CBI offered its first courses in January 2020. Within weeks, the COVID-19 pandemic was in full swing, creating unprecedented challenges to colleges and universities across the globe. At CBI, classes were initially forced to go online, yet by God's grace, the institute's mission remained steadfast, as new courses were offered and new programs were launched the following fall semester. By May 2022, fifteen students participated in CBI's inaugural commencement ceremony, which included graduates from three certificates programs, the bachelor's degree program, and the Residency program.

Statement of Faith

In order to maintain unity among its leadership and consistency across its curriculum, CBI requires its faculty and administration to affirm and teach in accordance with the institute's doctrinal distinctives, which consist of the following:

The Bible ✧ The sixty-six books of the Bible were given by the inspiration of God's Spirit and are not the product of human creativity or ingenuity (2Pt.1:20-21). Every word of the Bible is inspired by God in the original manuscripts (2Tim.3:16; Mt.5:18). The Bible in its original manuscripts is without error and is completely accurate in all that it affirms (Jn.17:17; Ps.19:7). The Scripture is to be interpreted considering the literal, grammatical and historical aspects of a given text.

God the Father ✧ There is only one true and living God (Deut.6:4; Is.45:5-7; 1Cor.8:4). God is one essence existing in three persons: the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit (Mt.28:19; 2Cor.13:14). God is sovereign (Ps.115:3), eternal (Is.44:6), all-knowing (Ps.139:4), all-powerful (Job 42:2), holy (Is.6:1-7), unchanging (Mal.3:6), just (Ps.97:2) and loving (1Jn.4:8).

Jesus Christ ✧ Jesus is God in very essence and pre-existed as God in all His glory before His incarnation in time and space (Jn.8:57-58; Phil.2:6-7). Jesus Christ became a man, virgin born (Mt.1:23), to redeem mankind and at that time accepted all the essential characteristics of humanity without violating or detracting from His divine essence (Heb.2:14-15; Phil.2:5-8). Jesus died on a cross for our sin (Jn.10:15; Rom.5:8; 1Pt.2:24), was physically raised from the dead (Rom.1:4; 1Cor.15:16-20), ascended to the Father (Ac.1:9; Rom.8:34), and will return to receive his church (Ac.1:9-11; 1Th.4:13-17).

The Holy Spirit ✧ The Holy Spirit is coequal with the Father and the Son (Mt.28:19; Ac.5:3-4; 28:25-26; 1Cor.12:4-6; 2 Cor.13:14). The Holy Spirit regenerates the Christian at conversion (Tit.3:5-7; Jn.3:3-8), places the Christian into the body of Christ at conversion (1Cor.12:13), indwells the Christian at conversion (1Cor.6:19), and is guarantee of the Christian's redemption (Eph.1:13-14), and leads the Christian on a daily basis as he or she submits to His leadership (Gal.5:16-25; Eph.5:18; Rom.8:14). The Holy Spirit is the Christian's source of giftedness in ministering to the local church (1Cor.12:7-11).

People ✧ The human race began by the direct and instantaneous creation of God (Gen.1:26-27). Men and women are created in God's image (Gen.1:26-27) and exist to glorify God (Is.43:7). People forfeited their intended fellowship with God (Is.59:2), incurred the penalty of spiritual and physical death (Gen.2:16-17; Rom.5:12), became subject to the wrath of God (Jn.3:36), and lost the ability to be independently acceptable to God (Rom.5:6-10) through Adam's one act of disobedience (Rom.5:12). People exist relationally separated from God and express that sinfulness in a variety of sinful acts (Is.59:2; Rom.3:10-18).

Salvation ✧ Salvation of individuals is wholly carried out by God's grace, based on the redemptive work of Jesus on the cross and is in no way contributed to or accomplished by the merit or work of the individual (Eph.1:7; 2:8-10; 1 Pt.1:18-19). Those who repent and put their trust in Jesus as their provision for their sinful condition (Mk.1:15; Lk.24:46-47; Ac.3:19; 11:18; 20:21) are declared righteous by God (Rom.3:21-22; 8:33). From a human perspective one is saved after hearing the message of the gospel (Rom.10:14), being convicted of sin by the Holy Spirit (Jn.16:8-9), mentally turning from sin to God (2 Cor.7:9-11), placing one's trust in Jesus as the complete and sole payment for sin (Jn.3:14-15). At this point God's Spirit indwells the individual (Rom.8:9), resulting in new birth (Jn.3:3) which is often referred to as conversion (Mt.18:3; Ac.15:3; Rom.16:5). Each step in the process of salvation is granted by God including repentance and faith (Ac.11:18; Eph.2:8). The converted individual then naturally bears fruit in keeping with the internal transformation that has taken place (2 Cor.5:17; Mt.3:8; 7:17-23; Jn.3:36).

The Church ✧ The universal church is composed of all Christians from Acts 2 to the rapture and is considered the complete body of Christ (Eph.5:22-33; Mt.16:18; Jn.1:12-13). Christians gathered in geographical locations around the world with a biblical purpose (Ac.2:42-47; Phil.3:3; Heb.10:24-25; Ac.1:8), biblical leadership (Tit.1:5; 1 Tim.3; 1Pt.5:1-3), and practicing the biblical ordinances (Mt.28:19; 1Cor.11:23-26) is what the Bible most often refers to as the "church"—i.e. local churches (1Cor.1:2; Gal.1:2; 1Th.1:1).

The Last Things ✧ All people will be physically resurrected (Ac.24:14-15; 1 Cor.15:22-23), the saved to blessing and reward (2 Cor.4:14), the unsaved to retribution and punishment (Rev.20:13-15; Dan.12:2). God has appointed Jesus to judge the world (Jn.5:22), both Christians, concerning rewards (1Cor.3:11-15), and non-Christians, concerning punishment (Rev.20:6, 11-15; Mt.8:12; 25:41; Rev.14:10-11; 21:8). Christ will return for his church (Ac.1:11; 1Th.4:16-17). There will be a terrible time of Tribulation (Rev.chaps.4-19). Christ will establish his kingdom (Rev.20:1-9). God will ultimately provide a new heaven and a new earth where the redeemed of God will dwell forever (Rev.21:1-22:5).

Doctrinal Qualifications for Students

CBI recognizes that its specific theological commitments do not define orthodoxy for the entirety of the body of Christ. For this reason, CBI accepts students from other theological traditions within conservative evangelicalism. However, in order to graduate from CBI, students must personally affirm the following doctrinal positions:

- The inspiration, authority and inerrancy of Scripture
- The Trinity
- The full deity and full humanity of Christ

- The creation of the human race in the image of God
- The spiritual lostness of the human race
- The substitutionary atonement and bodily resurrection of Christ
- Salvation by grace through faith alone in Christ alone
- The physical and imminent return of Christ
- The eternal reward of the righteous and the eternal judgment of the lost

Graduates of CBI must also maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0, demonstrate character in compliance with the CBI Student Standards, and be approved to graduate by the faculty and registrar.

Student Standards and Values

Given the nature of the training provided at CBI, students are expected to live in accordance with the following biblical standards of behavior and to be committed to the following ministry values distinctive to historic evangelicalism.

Standards

1. Students must be committed followers of Jesus Christ and be able to articulate a testimony of genuine repentance and faith.
2. Students must maintain a lifestyle that is free from unrepentant sin.
3. Students must practice kindness and respect toward fellow students and professors inside of the classroom and outside of the classroom.
4. Students must practice academic honesty and refrain from all forms of cheating and plagiarism.
5. Students must reflect by their behavior that they are in agreement with the biblical values of Compass Bible Church.

Values

1. The Bible is Central—Students must be committed to the centrality of God’s word in their spiritual growth as demonstrated by a personal study of the Bible on a consistent basis.
2. Expository Preaching—Students must be committed to regularly attending the worship services at their local church and should demonstrate an appetite for expository preaching.
3. A High View of God—Students must maintain and promote a high view of God demonstrated by reverence and obedience to Christ.
4. A Biblical Gospel—Students must be able to articulate the biblical gospel and must demonstrate a desire and effort to see others become genuine followers of Christ.
5. A Genuine Reliance on Prayer—Students must spend consistent time in prayer and demonstrate by their lifestyle a reliance on God.
6. Highly Committed Participants—Students must show a pattern of faithful service to the body of Christ.

7. Authentic and Sacrificial Leaders—Students must demonstrate consistent integrity and honesty in their dealings with others and must live an exemplary lifestyle of personal sacrifice for the good of Christ’s church. Students must willingly stop an activity that leads another Christian to sin or doubt the student’s maturity.
8. Working to Plant New Churches—Students must be committed to seeing CBC plant new churches and must demonstrate a willingness to be personally involved in a church plant if God so calls.

Students will be held accountable to the above standards and values. Any departure from them may result in disciplinary action or even dismissal.

Policies Concerning Nondiscrimination

In fulfilling its purposes, Compass Bible Institute shall admit students of any race, color and national or ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at Compass Bible Institute, and Compass Bible Institute shall not discriminate on the basis of race, color and national or ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and other school-administered programs.

Certification

CBI is licensed by California’s Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education (BPPE), which has authorized CBI to offer state-recognized, non-accredited certificates of completion, as well as associate and bachelor’s degrees, per the religious institution exemption of the California Education Code.

Transfer Agreements

CBI is pleased to partner with numerous like-minded colleges, universities, and seminaries in order to create easy and attractive pathways for students to complete accredited degrees. Each partnership has been codified through a transfer agreement, each with their own stipulations and sets of equivalencies. For more information, contact the CBI registrar. CBI has formal agreements with the following institutions.

Admissions

Prospective students should apply for admission to CBI by completing the online application form on the institute website (<https://compassbibleinstitute.org/>). For assistance, the applicant should contact the CBI registrar. CBI currently has a rolling admissions policy. However, because students cannot register for courses until they have been formally admitted, prospective students should submit their application one week before the start of the semester in which they wish to enroll.

To be considered for admission, transfer applicants must meet all general admission requirements, in addition to being in good standing and eligible to return to their most recently attended post-secondary educational institution—the applicant should not be on any form of probation. Applicants to the bachelor’s and Residency programs must request that official transcripts be sent to CBI from all colleges previously attended. Final transcripts of all college work must be in the student’s file prior to enrollment at CBI.

A complete application consists of the following materials:

- Application Form
- Written Christian testimony
- Pastor’s reference
- Relevant post-secondary transcripts
- $50 non-refundable application fee

Applications are required of all prospective students who wish to take courses for credit. Admitted students are not required to registrar for courses in consecutive semesters, and no reapplication process is required for students who wish to continue their coursework after a period of intermission.

Admission qualifications include the following:

- Testimony of conversion to faith in Jesus Christ
- Regular church attendance and involvement
- Agreement with the CBI doctrinal statement
- Agreement with the student standards and values

Financial Information

CBI offers college-level coursework at the highly competitive rate of $100 per credit hour. Payment is due at the time of the add/drop deadline for each term (two weeks after the start of the semester). Students are required to sign the payment policy at the time of registration. Tuition will be refunded if the course is dropped prior to the add/drop deadline. Registration fees are non-refundable.

Financial Aid

Because of CBI’s already reduced tuition rate, no scholarships are available at this time.

Student Services

Library Services

Measuring 2,070 square-feet, the CBI library holds over 9,000 volumes and provides comfortable workspace, lounge chairs, printing capability, and complimentary refreshments. The aim of the CBI library is to provide access to excellent academic resources and optimal study conditions for men and women training for effective Christian service. To this end, the CBI library maintains up-to-date print holdings in biblical, theological, and ministry studies. The library also recognizes the value of digital technology and is therefore committed to providing access to internet and software-based resources for local users. Printing, scanning, photocopying, workspace, and borrowing rights are available to instructors, students, and patrons during normal operating hours.

Academic Advising

CBI is pleased to provide academic advising to students as needed. The CBI faculty and staff welcomes appointments to discuss such matters as how students might improve academic performance, how students might grow spiritually during their course of study, and how students might achieve their vocational and ministerial goals. To make an appointment, the student should contact a faculty or staff member.

Academic Information

Calendar and Credits

The academic year consists of two 16-week semesters, each of which includes one week for final exams. The Fall semester extends from August to December, while the Spring semester extends from January to May. Opportunities for earning credit during the summer months may also be available in a given year but are not guaranteed. Credits are awarded based on the successful completion of the stated course requirements. Course requirements are designed in accordance with the course's objectives and total estimated workload hours. Courses normally follow the industry standard of 3 credits each. A 3-credit course normally requires students to invest approximately 125–145 total workload hours, inclusive of time spent attending class, reading textbooks, writing essays, studying for exams, as well as completing other requirements and means of assessment. Questions about workload calculation should be directed to the office of the registrar.

Instructional Modalities

Courses at CBI are currently available in two primary instructional modalities: in-person (residential) learning, and online (remote) learning. While in-person instruction has a variety of pedagogical advantages, the realities of scheduling conflicts and geographical distance together with the opportunities afforded by modern technology have led to the widespread adoption of online learning in nearly all institutions of higher education. CBI is committed to meeting students in need of biblical-theological and ministry training where they are by likewise making many of its courses available in an online format. Nevertheless, students who can attend class sessions in person are strongly encouraged to do so, in order that they might maximize their ability to participate throughout the learning process.

Academic Policies

Class Attendance

Regular attendance is essential for student success and will normally be required in CBI courses. However, in order to meet individual course needs while accommodating to remote learners and students with unavoidable scheduling conflicts, the attendance policies of individual courses will be developed and enforced in accordance with the discretion of their instructor.

Weekend Intensive Courses

During two or three terms annually, visiting professors are invited to teach intensive courses that can be taken for credit or audited by the general public. The primary teaching for these courses typically consists of 12 hours of lectures delivered by the visiting professor over a single weekend (Friday evening to Sunday afternoon). Students who wish to earn credit should enroll in the 16-week version of the course, which might include additional course requirements (e.g., reading, essays, exams) as well as additional lectures delivered by resident faculty.

Auditing

Because completion of coursework prepares students for the classroom and impacts the learning experience for all involved, the majority of CBI courses are not available for auditing. Students are permitted to audit courses only in rare circumstances (e.g., weekend intensives; courses closely associated with a particular Compass Bible Church ministry opportunity). If students wish to take a course without having to complete all the course requirements, they are encouraged to take the course for pass-or-fail credit.

Pass or Fail

Students have the option of completing specially identified courses for a Pass or Fail grade. A Pass grade, which awards the student credit while not impacting their GPA, is received by earning a minimum of 60% in the course. Failure to do so will result in a Fail grade, which awards the student with zero credit while negatively impacting their GPA. Students must earn a letter grade (A, B, C, etc.) for at least half their coursework to graduate. All students desiring to continue their education beyond CBI are encouraged to register all their courses for a letter grade in order to meet the transfer requirements of the receptor institution. Students who wish to take a course for a Pass or Fail grade must notify the registrar by the add/drop deadline.

Directed Study

In rare cases, students may fulfill a program requirement through independent learning approved and directed by a resident faculty member. No more than 20% of a program can be completed through directed study. Students requiring such an arrangement must complete a directed study application form. Approval of the request will be based on the circumstances of the student, the rationale for an independent arrangement, and the support of the supervising faculty member.

Academic Integrity

Compass Bible Institute holds students to a high standard of academic integrity and expects students to be vigilant and honest in the fulfillment of their academic work. Students must follow the instructions provided by their instructors, submit original work, and give credit for both ideas and verbiage originating from other persons by means of appropriate citations.

- Cheating

Academic cheating is any act—whether successful or attempted—wherein a student seeks to obtain an unfair advantage in the completion of their coursework. Common forms of cheating include, but are not limited to, using unauthorized notes or materials during an assignment or exam, submitting the same work in more than one course, and lying to an instructor in order to obtain an extension or excused absence. If a student is ever in doubt about the expectations of any aspect of their coursework, they should consult with their instructor immediately.

- Plagiarism and Citations

Plagiarism is the act of intentionally or unintentionally presenting the ideas or words of another person as one's own. Plagiarism is unethical and constitutes a serious violation of academic policy. When the ideas or words of others are used in one's academic or professional work, attribution must be provided. Unless otherwise instructed, in all written work CBI students should cite secondary literature in footnotes, include a bibliography, and follow the citation system prescribed by The Chicago Manual of Style (17th ed.). For assistance with the Chicago Style, see the online guide.
(chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide/citation-guide-1.html)

- Penalties for Academic Misconduct

In the event that a student violates the CBI standards of academic integrity, he or she will be subjected to academic discipline. In the case of a first offense, the student will receive a failing grade for any and all assignments, quizzes, examinations, or class requirements in which academic misconduct occurred. The instructor of the course will also notify the office of the registrar and the violation will remain permanently on record. In the case of any subsequent offenses, the same disciplinary steps will be followed, and the CBI Director will determine whether the student should receive a failing grade for the course, or if the student should be suspended or dismissed from the institute.

Disability Accommodations

CBI complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) as well as Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, by providing appropriate accommodations to qualified students. CBI seeks to create learning environments that are accessible, equitable, and inclusive. If any student encounters or anticipates any environmental or formatting obstacles to their course of study, they are encouraged to speak directly to the instructor or CBI Director about these concerns, who will do their best to provide reasonable accommodations to alleviate any unnecessary roadblocks for student success.

Transfer Credit

CBI welcomes transfer students, who are students that have studied at one or more other institutions of higher education after receiving a high school diploma and prior to matriculating at CBI. Transfer credits must satisfy a graduation requirement and be assessed as equivalent in content and workload to be applied to a degree program. Courses in which less than a grade of C was earned are not transferable. Students may transfer no more than 50% of their Bible coursework (BS, TH, PCM course equivalencies) into a CBI program.

CLEP and AP Credits

Students in the bachelor's degree program can satisfy general education requirements through various means, including completion of general education courses at accredited colleges and universities, as well through CLEP and AP credits. Students should request The College Board to send official CLEP and AP transcripts to the CBI registrar.

Credit by Examination

Under special circumstances, students may earn credit by examination for prior learning. Credit by examination is not available for all courses. Evidence of prior learning must be demonstrated to the registrar through completion and approval of an Application for Credit by Examination.

Graduation Requirements

CBI offers numerous degree and non-degree programs, each with their own individualized coursework. Graduation requires the satisfactory completion of the specified coursework while maintaining the minimal graduation standards and meeting the minimal extra-curricular requirements of all CBI students. The following consists of those standards and requirements:

- Maintaining a cumulative GPA of not less than 2.0
- Completing at least half (50%) of the prescribed coursework through CBI
- Submitting a complete application for graduation, and having it approved
- Affirming the CBI Student Doctrinal Statement
- Paying off all charges on one's CBI account

Commencement

Students who successfully complete a CBI program while meeting the standards and requirements stated above by the date specified in a given academic year will be invited to participate in the biennial commencement ceremony following the Spring semester. Although participation in the commencement ceremony is not mandatory to receive a diploma, all graduates in a particular year are encouraged to participate.

Course Descriptions

Biblical Studies (BS) Courses

BS-101 Old Testament Survey (3 credits)

This class is an overview of Genesis through Malachi, focusing on the historical chronology and contexts, the literary contents, and the theological contributions of the Old Testament books. This class will highlight the events, genres, geography, characters, and the redemptive flow of history that is presented by God to us in the Old Testament books, which prove foundational for an accurate understanding of Christ and the New Testament Scriptures.

BS-102 New Testament Survey (3 credits)

An overview of Matthew through Revelation, focusing on the literary contents, historical contexts, and theological contributions of the New Testament books. Highlights the major historical people, places, and events of the New Testament while mapping them onto the overarching redemptive storyline.

BS-201 Biblical Interpretation (3 credits)

An introduction to the principles and practices of biblical interpretation, as well as the primary tools for biblical research. Students will become acquainted with the history of interpretation and a defense of the literal-historical-grammatical approach. Hermeneutical strategies will be used to interpret various literary genres, examine historical and literary contexts, analyze structural relationships, perform word studies, and develop principles for practical application.

BS-301 Bible Introduction (3 credits)

An introduction to the origin, transmission, and translation of the Bible, including its inspiration, canonization, preservation, and textual reconstruction. Addresses the major historical-critical questions relating to the Bible's authority, and provides the student with an apologetic for the inspiration and inerrancy of Scripture.

BS-351 Gospel of Matthew (3 credits)

This course is an expository study of Matthew, with attention to theological themes, literary structure, hermeneutical issues, and relationship to other parts of the Bible.

BS-354 Gospel of John (3 credits)

An expository study of the Gospel of John with attention to theological themes, literary structure, hermeneutical issues, and relationship to other parts of the Bible.

BS-356 Romans (3 credits)

An expository study of Paul's epistle to the Romans, stressing its contribution to the doctrines of salvation and sanctification, and to understanding the place of Israel and the church in the divine plan. Assesses important perspectives on how to interpret Romans and explores how the theological and ethical principles of the epistle contribute to spiritual formation and relevant issues in contemporary society.

BS-357 1 Corinthians (3 credits)

An expository study of 1 Corinthians stressing its contribution to the doctrine of the church and to Christian ethics. Examines important perspectives on how to interpret the letter, as well as explores how the work of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit impact growth in discipleship and participation in Christian ministry.

BS-370 Land of the Bible (3 credits)

A visual survey of the land of the Bible, including major sites and cities in the Old and New Testaments with a particular focus on ancient Israel. The course illuminates the student's understanding of biblical events and their significance to the larger narrative of Scripture by linking the texts, history, and geography of the Bible. Introduces students to recent archaeological discoveries that provide evidence for the reliability of the Bible.

BS-383 Biblical Greek 1 (3 credits)

An introduction to Koine Greek for the purpose of learning to read the Greek New Testament. This course will focus on pronunciation and acquisition of vocabulary, study of Greek grammar, and translation from Greek to English.

BS-384 Biblical Greek 2 (3 credits)

An introduction to Koine Greek for the purpose of learning to read the Greek New Testament. This course will focus on pronunciation and acquisition of vocabulary, study of Greek grammar, and translation from Greek to English. Prerequisite: Biblical Greek 1

BS-401 The Reliability of the Bible (3 credits)

An examination and defense of the Bible's trustworthiness, focusing on challenges to the veracity of Scripture and skepticism about the integrity of modern English versions. Responds to popular and academic misconceptions about the Old and New Testaments in order to bolster confidence in Bible study and personal evangelism.

Practical Christian Ministry (PCM) Courses

PCM-100 Church Service (1 credit)
